

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE 26

7 FEBRUARY 1977

Carter Classmate CIA Director?

Washington (UPI) — A White House aide confirmed yesterday that Adm. Stansfield Turner, commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization Forces in southern Europe, is one of several candidates "under serious consideration" for director of the Central Intelligence Agency. President Carter's previous nomination of former Kennedy adviser Theodore Sorensen ran into Senate opposition and Sorensen withdrew. Turner, 53, was graduated first in the same Naval Academy class as Carter in 1947.